

WHAT ALL THE FIGHTERS' WILL BE UP AGAINST NOW.

So the Governor has "gone and done it." All the croakers have a chance now to say "I told you so."

WELL, if the Governor's say-so holds good, New York will cease to be a Mecca for glove-slingers.

THE 'Frisco scrappers seem to have the worst of it. Burned out at home, with their occupations gone so far as good old San Francisco is concerned, they came to New York in droves.

So is Kid Hermann, who came here at Harry Pollock's invitation to be introduced to the better man in the Britt-McGovern rivalry.

AND the Philadelphia scrappers. They'll have to take the brake beams back home. Philadelphia is a poor town for little fighting men.

WORK is the awful thing that confronts the friendless boxer now. What will Joe Gans do? Joe, they say, is down to his traditional "hard chin" and has to look for a job.

AS for the local lightweights—back to the delicatessen stores for them! Kid Pollock and his pals will soon be reaching out for nickels and hunks of sausage.

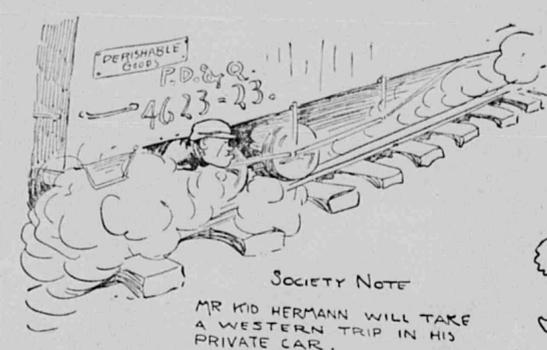

Later—There's a silver lining to the cloud. Possibly the boxing clubs will be able to prove that they are legally engaged in furnishing amusement for their members.

CORNELL GRATEFUL.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 1.—The Cornell students at a mass meeting voted to give a substantial present to Jack Mankley, the coach of the track team.

CHOICE MOUNTS ENABLE MILLER AND RADTKE TO WIN

Other Jockeys Could Do Equally as Well, Says Thorp, if Given the Best Horses to Ride.

BY FRANK W. THORP. It does look as if any one who chooses any horse in a race nowadays except those ridden by Radtke and Miller is pretty certain to lose his money.

THE moment an owner or trainer gets a horse good and drops him in a spot where he thinks he can win he hikes after the services of Miller or Radtke.

It is the fact that because these boys are so much sought after and receive the choice of mounts that they are so successful. They ride live ones. There are other riders, however, who might do quite as well with the same opportunities thrust in their way.

ALBANY FIGHTS NOT STOPPED

By JOHN POLLOCK. While Gov. Higgins has ordered boxing bouts stopped in New York he has made no effort whatever to put a stop to the brutal twenty-round fights which have been pulled off within a short distance of the Capitol for several months.

WALSH AND ATTILL MAY FIGHT AGAIN

Jimmy Walsh the New England featherweight and Abe Attill have practically been matched to try conclusions in a twenty-round bout before the Pacific A. C. of Los Angeles, on June 15 for the featherweight championship of the world.

ORTH HAS A NEW TWIRL, THE "SPIT FALL-AWAY"

It Starts with a Buzz for the Plate, Then Apparently Breaks and Falls Away in Gentlest Curve Downward.

MAHER WINS OAKS ON KEYSTONE II.

EPSON, England, June 1.—The Oaks was started in the rain and finished in a hail storm to-day. Show Glory led to the mile post, when Portland Lass came to the front. Show Glory regained the lead, but a quarter of a mile from home "Danny" Maher, following the same tactics that he did when he won the Derby on Spearhead, May 20, brought up Keystone II, gradually drove her to the front, and won easily by three lengths.

CALLAHAN WINS ANOTHER BATTLE

(Special to The Evening World.) PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 1.—Tim Callahan met Kid Gleason, of Connecticut, in the wind-up at the Broadway A. C. last night. Callahan clearly outpointed his man from the beginning of the bout till the end of the contest.
